INT. CONTAINMENT ROOM - NIGHT

A small white sterile windowless room.

Three black chairs and a short gray metal table.

In the corner of the ceiling is a video surveillance camera.

DR. CHANDLER? Doctor ELAINE CHANLER, 20's, a high-fashion runway model in a white lab coat. She looks at a computer monitor as she sits at the table.

ELAINE

In the neurotransmitter tests, you responded six times faster than a world-class athlete.

Hybrid soldier MOËTA, 20's, a stoic man with mannequin-like features.

Dressed in black fatigues like a Ninja warrior with jet black wrap around sunglasses. He speaks in a slow measured cadence, pausing between words as he sits motionless opposite Dr. Chanler.

MOËTA

Our biological systems have an ... electrochemical accelerant that

MOËTA Doctor Chanler, you need to leave.

ELAINE

Why?

MOËTA

It has begun.

ELAINE

What's happening?

A LOUD ALARM activates.
